F: What time is it now?

M: It's five o'clock.

F: It's 5pm here in Seattle, so it's 8am in China. I'm calling Yao Ting now

M: Yao Ting? At 8am? She's sleeping right now.

F: Oh, you are right. So what time is it in Osaka now?

M: Osaka Japan? It's 10am.

F: Great. I think I'll call...

M: You are not calling Nokanak, are you?

F: Why? Nokanak never gets up later than 9.

M: But he's in Taxes this week, remember?

F: Oh, yeah, I forgot. But I have the telephone number at the hotel in San Antonio.

M: What time is it there?

F: It's 3pm.... So he's probably... not in his room right now... Well then, what time is it in South Africa?

M: Are you calling Jerry?

F: Yeah, We have to tell someone that we are getting married.

The woman gets up at

M: Let's go see Arnold's Terminator 7 this Saturday.

F: Sure, but let's not go early. You know I don't get up early on the weekends.

M: What time do you get up on Saturdays?

F: Around 10 o'clock or so.

M: Oh, that's not very late. I get up at noon sometimes.

F: Don't you eat breakfast, then?

M: Not really.

F: How about this? Let's meet at Kwan's Kitchen at one o'clock. They serve brunch all day on Saturdays. It's perfect for us.

M: Sounds great!

TOEIC Conversations

woman: Mr. Williams asked me to file these monthly reports, but I'm not sure which file cabinet to put them in.

man: Those go in the accountant's office. Go down the hall, and take a left. The accountant's office is the first door on the right. Put them in the top drawer of the gray one.

woman: Got it. That's for the help.

man: Ms Wang, I'll be making a conference call with the partners for the next half hour. Make sure that I'm not interrupted.

woman: Certainly, Mr. Liston. And if the documents arrive from the plant.

man: Yes, notify me of that right away, but everything else will have to wait. Why were the copies not printed?

man: Mrs. Santoro, didn't I make myself clear? I wanted three hundred copies of the agreement printed by this afternoon.

woman: Yes, Mr. Hartman. But the sales department called with some last minute revisions. We're still waiting for the new text.

man: Oh. In that case, you're right for holding off.

woman: A decision needs to be made about the vacancy on the board of directors. Bill, what's your opinion.

man: Rosemary Kaminski is more than qualified. Plus, she worked closely with Mr. Peters before he retired.

woman: Good point. Call Ms. Kaminski's secretary and set up an interview.

woman: I'm terribly sorry to have to rush out on you like this, but the hospital needs me right away.

man: Oh, no. But you won't get to eat dessert.

woman: Let's do it another time. For now, I need to see an injured patient.

man: Can I get my money back on this briefcase? The handle broke the first time I used it.

woman: That's unusual. Well, if you have your receipt, I can issue you a full refund or, if you'd prefer, I can replace it with a new one.

man: No thanks. Here's my receipt.

woman: I've been working on tonight's speech for several weeks now.

man: I'm sure you'll be fine. About how long is it?

woman: Twenty minutes, not counting the first few minutes of "thank you".

man: When will the order be ready for shipment? My assembly line is shut down until I receive those materials.

woman: They'll be ready for shipment in three business days.

man: I can wait that long. I'll have to get what I need somewhere else.

man: I'm sorry, ma'am. The name on your ticket and the one on your passport don't match.

woman: But that's impossible. Wait, maybe I took my daughter's ticket by accident.

man: Whatever the reason, I'm afraid I can't let you board the plane.

man: Would you like that delivered by mail or special courier?

woman: Actually, we'd like to send one of our office clerks over there to pick up the order this afternoon.

man: Whatever would be most convenient. Have your clerk ask for Mr. Watson in shipping.

woman: I'd like to purchase your newest monitor. I believe the model number is seven-x-seven.

man: I'm sorry. Due to a two day power outage at the factory, shipment has been delayed until next week. We're out of stock.

woman: Here's my card. Call me when your next shipment arrives.

man: What did the maitre' d say? Will there be a table available?

woman: He took our room number and will call up as soon as a table is available.

man: I have to admit, the service here is remarkable for such reasonably priced accommodations.

man: Can I pay for dinner with a check or credit card?

woman: We accept cash, of course, and credit cards, but not personal checks. Sorry for the inconvenience.

man: Not at all. Here try this one. I haven't reached my credit limit yet.

man: I'm trying to get the rest of these documents typed and printed. I also need to make sure these packages get delivered.

woman: And the production figures I need for the board meeting this afternoon?

man: Yes, Ms. Diaz. Those are my immediate priority.

man: I'd look to book a round trip ticket to Paris, leaving tomorrow morning.

woman: We only have coach seats remaining on our morning flight. The afternoon flight still has First Class and Business Class seating available.

man: Well, I don't need to be in France until Tuesday night, so I'll wait for the later, more comfortable flight.

TOEFL

Excuse me, I'm trying to find professor Miller's office. I think it's supposed to be somewhere around here.

If I'm not mistaken, you should see it at the end of the corridor.

Frank, do you have any cold medicine? I'm really feeling terrible.

I'm out, but I know the drug store across from the gym is open 24 hours.

Hey, aren't you supposed to work in the Student Center on Tuesday afternoons?

I know, I know. I'm on my way. I'm just really behind schedule today.

Hey, aren't you supposed to work in the Student Center on Tuesday afternoons?

I know, I know. I'm on my way. I'm just really behind schedule today.

Well, if this kind of weather keeps up, I guess we'll just be forced to put off the field trip to the nature preserve.

Not necessarily. As long as everyone comes prepared with rain gear, we shouldn't have to.

Every time I plug these figures into the formula, I get a really odd answer. I can't figure out what I'm doing wrong.

That's a relief. I thought I was the only one.

That's a great new camera. It must take really beautiful pictures.

I wouldn't know. Something's not working properly, so I'm sending it back to the shop to have someone take a look at it.

I hear you and Jennifer are going to move into an apartment off campus next semester.

Originally, that was the plan, but after calculating our budget, we decided to stay put.

There's nothing I hate more than standing in line at the bookstore. Last semester it took me ten minutes to find my books and then an hour and half to pay for them. The book store opens early on Saturday morning. Most people are probably sleeping then.

I was only able to register for 2 of the 5 classes I wanted to take this semester. All the others were closed.

That's what happens when you wait until the last day. Why don't you ever take that into account?

One of the reasons I love studying computer engineering is that the field is constantly changing.

I'm impressed. I don't know how you can keep up on all those new trends.

GEPT High Intermediate

W: I really enjoyed that lecture. What did you think?

M: I disagree with what he said about learning a language.

W: Oh? How?

M: He made it sound so easy. In fact, it is very difficult.

W: Why didn't you make your opinion known?

M: I'm not feeling confrontational today.

M: Hey, Tammy, where are you off too?

W: Hi Jim. I'm on my way to meet someone for coffee.

M: Oh really, who?

W: I'm sorry, I'd rather not say.

M: It's really none of my business anyway.

W: Look out your window.

M: That is gorgeous. So colorful; pink, purple, brown. Amazing!

W: I haven't seen a sunset like that in quite some time, even when I'm here.

M: Beach sunsets seem to be the most beautiful.

W: I'm going to grab the camera.

M: It's in the green suitcase. Hurry, it won't last much longer.

W: Hi Phil, are you okay?

M: No, I'm not. I just got some bad news.

W: What happened? Something to do with the grant you applied for?

M: Yes, we didn't get it.

W: Why not?

M: The foundation was not interested in my research. I'll have to try elsewhere.

W: Don't worry Phil, you're an excellent scholar. You'll get a grant.

M: That's a very unusual painting.

W: Yes, it's done in a highly abstract style, but I like the use of color.

M: What do you suppose it represents?

W: According to the guidebook, it was created just after the artist divorced. It is supposed to represent his confusion, fear, and anxiety.

M: Let's move on to the next gallery. I want to see the Impressionists.

W: I can't believe you forgot to pick up the dry cleaning!

M: What's the big deal? I forgot. So what?

W: I have an important meeting tomorrow, and I was planning on wearing my black suit.

M: Well, all is not lost. I'll stop by before work and pick it up. You'll be ready in time.

W: You're a lifesaver. Thank you!

M: Smell this.

W: Oh, that's incredible. What's in it?

M: I used fresh tomatoes, olive oil, and garlic. It's really quite simple. Would you like me to teach you how to make it?

W: I'm hungry now. Let's do that next time.

M: It will be ready in about five minutes. Will you check the noodles?

W: Sure.

W: Pardon me, do you have a light?

M: Sure. Are you here for the convention, or on vacation?

W: Both. After the convention, I'm going to stay around for a few extra days and do some sightseeing.

M: How do you like this hotel?

W: The rooms are nice. Service is good. The lobby is a little small, but I find this place to be quaint.

M: Me too. The food is great. Want to order something?

M: It doesn't get any better than this. Look at those waves.

W: I haven't relaxed like this in ages. I'm so glad we contacted that travel agent. This sand is so clean.

M: That was the smartest move we've made all year.

W: What do you want to do later?

M: After we finish tanning, I'd like to go boating. You?

W: I think I'd just like to lay here for a few hours, then decide.

M: What is on the schedule for today, Rose?

W: You've got a meeting at 9 with the board of directors, then a lunch with the West Region manager. He flew in this morning.

M: How about the afternoon?

W: You've got a 3 pm call with the bank, and a massage at 5 pm.

M: Move the massage up to 4pm. I'll need it by then.

We are the World (various)

There comes a time

When we head a certain call

When the world must come together as one

There are people dying

And it's time to lend a hand to life

The greatest gift of all

We can't go on

Pretending day by day

That someone, somewhere will soon make a change

We are all a part of God's great big family

And the truth, you know love is all we need

We are the world

We are the children

We are the ones who make a brighter day

So let's start giving

There's a choice we're making

We're saving our own lives

It's true we'll make a better day

Just you and me

Send them your heart

So they'll know that someone cares

And their lives will be stronger and free

As God has shown us by turning stone to bread

So we all must lend a helping hand

When you're down and out

There seems no hope at all

But if you just believe

There's no way we can fall

Well, well, well, well, let us realize

That a change will only come

When we stand together as one
