Questions 163-165 refer to the following e-mail message.

From: Jocelyn Garcia, Supervisor of Physical Therapy

To: Candace Kane

Subject: Physical Therapy Regimen

Dear Candace,

I've tried to reach you several times by phone but haven't been able to get through. You had asked one of the assistant therapists, Sally Henderson, about making some changes to your rehabilitation program. She seemed to think that you were making good progress with the program you were on, but if you'd like to tweak things a little, you might consider the following suggestions.

At this point, three months after your knee surgery, we have you doing most of your exercises in a pool. You said that you'd like to start jogging again. Have you considered "pool running?" It's a good first step. I'll have Sally show you how to do it properly when you come in on Tuesday for your swimming therapy. Instead of having you swim for the whole hour, we'll replace at least fifteen minutes of that time with pool running.

You also asked about biking. I'll tentatively agree to that, if you'll first do a week of preparation on our stationary bikes here at the rehab center. That way we can monitor you for any swelling.

I'm really glad to hear you're recovering so quickly! Call me if you'd like to discuss my recommendations.

Joyce

163. Why does Candace Kane need therapy?

- (A) She suffered an injury while running.
- (B) She's recovering from an operation.
- (C) She needs to learn to swim properly.
- (D) She's preparing for a race.

164. Why does Jocelyn suggest using a stationary bike?

- (A) It is less dangerous.
- (B) It is healthier for knees.
- (C) It will allow careful monitoring of Candace's progress.
- (D) It will help the swelling in Candace's knee subside.

165. Who is Sally Henderson?

- (A) A surgeon
- (B) Director of the rehabilitation center
- (C) A physical therapist's assistant
- (D) A swimming instructor

July 7

Karen Finklestein

Grande Rio State University

Department of Finance

Harmon Building 165

Dear Professor Finkelstein,

My name is Ken Bowman, personnel director for Jupiter Securities 證券. I was in attendance for your paper presentation at the banking and finance seminar late last month at Natchez University. I was intrigued by several of the concepts you introduced, including the new algorithm you developed for predicting stock market movement in computer models.

I'll be frank. I was impressed. You are exactly the kind of fresh thinker that I would like to add to the Jupiter Securities team. I know that you are currently working in the academic sector, but I hoped you would at least come down and talk to me.

Of course, I don't wish to compromise your current position at the university so any communication between us would remain strictly confidential. Even if you don't feel inclined to join us here at Jupiter on a full-time basis, we might also consider offering you a consulting position that would allow you to keep your current position at the university.

Whatever you decide, I just wanted to thank you for that wonderful presentation. You really opened my eyes to some new possibilities. It would be a bonus if I could persuade you to join forces with us.

Sincerely,

Ken Bowman

Jupiter Securities

Questions 177-180 refer to the following article.

Not Just Bricks 紅磚 and Mortar 石灰 Anymore

More and more businesses are supplementing their traditional brick and mortar establishments with virtual shops on the Internet. For some business, like bookstores and music companies, the move to online sales seemed natural. However, nowadays there are even some less obvious businesses making their way into online sales.

The first innovative company I want to highlight today is the Grocermart Supermarket chain. Last year, they introduced their virtual shopper online program. Customers enrolled in their Smart Shopper program can order their groceries online and have them delivered to their homes free of charge within a few hours. The Grocermart Smart Shopper program allows participants to purchase any product in the store from the comfort of their own home. Further, users can save Virtual Shopping lists of their most commonly purchased items so they can avoid the need to search for the items they want each time they visit the Grocermart website.

The second company recently moving online was auto parts giant, Overhaul. At the Overhaul website, do-it-yourselfers can search for and order the parts that they need and have them delivered within four hours (from participating retailers and for an added fee). Marketing Director, Fred Slipton, figures that delivery of auto parts is exactly what most DIYers need. "After all," he stated in a phone interview, "they can't drive here themselves."

While both programs are still in their infancy, many of their competitors are taking a closer look at how these new online services will affect their respective marketplaces.

Early successes could mean an explosion of copycat services.

177. What does the writer imply about online supermarkets?
- (A) They are unlikely to succeed.
 - (B) They have only recently been created.
 - (C) They also sell books.
 - (D) They should only sell natural foods.
178. Which of the following is NOT available from the Grocermart Smart Shopper program?
- (A) Delivery of groceries
 - (B) Many of the products that are available in the store
 - (C) A way to save shopping lists
 - (D) The opportunity to search for products online
179. How does the Overhaul program differ from the Grocermart program?
- (A) The speed of delivery
 - (B) The method of ordering
 - (C) The cost of delivery
 - (D) The ease of use
180. What can be inferred from the article?
- (A) Other companies may imitate the ones mentioned in the article.
 - (B) Many shoppers don't know how to drive.
 - (C) Online retailing is more profitable than traditional methods.
 - (D) Users of online services are younger than average.

Questions 181-185 refer to the following instructions and letter.

Assembly Instructions

- Step 1: Remove the cabinet frame from the box.
- Step 2: Attach the sliders for the drawers on the left and right sides of the cabinet frame using the eight (8) screws included in the bag marked "Bag A"
- Step 3: Attach the rollers to the drawer using the six (6) screws included in the bag marked "Bag B"
- Step 4: Attach the drawer pull onto the front face of the drawer using the hardware included in the bag marked "Hardware"

To: Furniturama DIY Furniture Warehouse

To Whom It May Concern,

I recently purchased a chest of drawers and had a lot of problems during the assembly process.

The first problem was that the bags were all mismarked. There were supposed to be two bags of screws marked Bag A and Bag B. However, although the directions stated that I was supposed to use the Bag A screws in Step 2, they obviously didn't fit the slider tracks. I then discovered that the labels had been mixed up.

Further, in Step 4, I was instructed to use a bag called Hardware. There was no such bag. I found the parts in a bag marked Pull. This was a minor annoyance. What really bothered me was that the drawer pull hardware required a specialized triangular head screwdriver, which I didn't own. I had to go out and buy a special tool that I will probably never use again. That should have been clearly stated on the box or in the assembly instructions.

You really need to improve the documentation included with your furniture. I won't be making any more purchases with you any time soon.

Hal Burnstein

181. According to the directions, what must be attached first?
- (A) The drawer
 - (B) The sliders
 - (C) The hardware
 - (D) The cabinet frame
182. How many screws are necessary for assembly of the rollers?
- (A) Two
 - (B) Four
 - (C) Six
 - (D) Eight

Questions 186-190 refer to the following explanation and statement.

Dear Valued Customer,

Beginning this month, we are introducing several new features to our monthly statement. First, in an effort to save paper, we will no longer be sending paper statements automatically at the end of each month. Instead, we are going to send out statements each quarter. This is our first version of a quarterly statement. If you would prefer to continue to receive monthly statements, you can register to do so at <www.bossworthbroker.com/statement.htm>.

Starting with this quarter's statement, we are also including a pie chart representation of your current portfolio. Please note that the chart includes only long positions. Short positions are not included.

We hope you are satisfied with your new quarterly statement. If you have questions or wish to make suggestions, please log on to our webpage at www.bossworthbroker.com/statement.htm.

Questions 191-195 refer to the following letter and document.

	76 Hereford Lane Boddington Rupshire W46 2KL
	September 10
Hackney Taxicab 52 Buckminster Road Derryfield
Dear Sir,
While riding in one of your taxis last week from my home to the airport, my suit was soiled by an oily residue on the seat of the cab. The number of the taxi was 786F and the driver's name was Arup Gupta. The substance stained the trousers and coattails of a custom-made silk suit. While the driver was understanding, he was unable to satisfy my demands for recompense. He suggested that such claims be made to the company directly.
Enclosed, you will find a copy of the cleaning bill. However, as is clearly noted on the enclosed, the suit was ruined. The stains are permanent. Prior to my engaging a legal counsel, I wished to offer you the opportunity to reimburse me for the price of the suit. I am currently looking for a copy of the receipt made at the time of the purchase of my suit in New York. The cost was $800 US. Needless to say, if I want the suit replaced, I will need to wait until I travel back to the United States. I will not charge you for the airfare, though I would be well within my rights.
Yourstruly, David Xavier Tate

Work description: stain removal silk suit

Cost: £17

Notes: We processed the suit but were unable to remove the stain. It seems permanent.
(Seems to be soy sauce?) Further processing risks destroying the fabric.

191. What is the purpose of this letter?
- (A) To request a taxi
 - (B) To inquire about a lost package
 - (C) To request reimbursement
 - (D) To report a bad driver
192. Why does Mr. Tate mention airfare?
- (A) He needs it in order to replace a suit.
 - (B) It was taken from him by the driver.
 - (C) It equals the cost of a suit.
 - (D) He lost that amount of cash in the taxi.
193. Why did Mr. Tate enclose a dry cleaning bill?
- (A) To prove the cost of cleaning
 - (B) To suggest a fair solution
 - (C) To emphasize the degree of damage
 - (D) To request a second opinion
194. How does Mr. Tate characterize the taxi driver?
- (A) Satisfactory
 - (B) Sympathetic
 - (C) Direct
 - (D) Demanding
195. What suggestion is made by the Jessie Dry-Clean company?
- (A) That Mr. Tate buy a new suit
 - (B) That the suit be reprocessed
 - (C) That cleaning the suit further may ruin the material
 - (D) That Mr. Tate attempt to clean the suit with soy sauce

Questions 196-200 refer to the following news report and interoffice memo.

Business Beat

Chillrock Ice Cream announced the hiring of Mr. Ben N. Jerrie as the new chief operations officer for the company. Mr. Jerrie has served in the same capacity in the past for Lethaldrop Pesticide Company. A spokesman for Chillrock said that "Mr. Jerrie brings exactly the type of cost-cutting expertise we need to control our financial outflows during our projected expansion."

Ben N. Jerrie, not formerly affiliated with Chillrock in any way, nevertheless has a bit of history with the company. He and Chillrock's founder, Francine Bella Lobo, were high school sweethearts. The spokesperson at Chillrock declines to comment on whether their past relationship was a factor in Mr. Jerrie's hiring.

Mr. Jerrie's hiring could not have come at a better time. Chillrock's share price has stumbled recently due to shrinking margins caused by cost overruns. News of the hiring sent shares of the company up $0.02 in after-hours trading.

Memorandum to Chillrock Staff

This is my first chance to greet all of you and express how pleased I am to be working with such a fine company. I am well aware, however, that any disturbance to the status quo is likely to bring feelings of trepidation. First, let me assure you that we will continue to do business in the traditional Chillrock manner.

There do need to be, nevertheless, some changes in the way we control our costs. I have really only just begun to understand the financial side of the business, yet there are some obvious areas I have already targeted for improvement. Waste in raw materials procurement, waste in production, waste in distribution—there are so many places that we can, indeed, must, improve.

Over the course of the next few weeks I will be going around to individual department heads to hear their thoughts on cost reductions in their particular areas. Workers in all departments are encouraged to go to their supervisors with any suggestions they may have. Together, we can make Chillrock not only the best ice cream in the world, but one of the best-run companies as well.

Ben Jerrie
